Last month, I shared my thoughts on why the iPad Pro is my favorite iPad and personal assistant, despite it not only being the premium device on the market, but right now, the only iPad or Mac that I can actually get to work just as well as my laptop. Software is a good way to do something you love while making money. But you can have a great portfolio while saving money too. Most of my works are created on my desktop. It takes a lot of time and effort, which means the quality of my work is not high. Software, on the other hand, is extremely convenient. You can do multitasking while working, easily access your work and make changes without having to replace any files. The most amazing thing about desktop software is that you can always revert to the old version of the software. How does the iPad Pro revolutionize software? There are already great software on the market, but the real revolution is in the iPad Pro. This is a tablet that can completely replace your laptop. With high-end software, you can edit video, sketch, make 3D models, designer to graphics, and so on. Imagine the possibilities: Do you know about any potential problem in your job? iPad Pro is the perfect assistant that can extend your reach. I've been using pro apps for a while, it never amazes me what pros and semi-pros do with their iPad Pro. This is the perfect tool to do photo editing in the hotel room, or on the go. Your designs are always waiting for you, so everyday, design is inevitable.
